Cairo

A few meters from the rush of Cairo, our tour today is to Dahshur where history is in the middle of a desert, disclosing the pharaohs' secrets and the construction of the initial pyramids.

With Cairo Top Tours, you will experience an impressive tour to the region of Dahshur, where you will be able to explore the ancient past of the Pharaohs. Dahshur forms one of the world's most visited tourist sites due to the presence of many ancient Egyptian ruins. The Egyptian pharaoh, Sneferu, chose the Dahshur rock platform as his site for a tomb that would be as great as his father's tomb, Djoser's owner of Saqqara Step Pyramid. Dahshur is home to an ancient Egyptian royal tomb and several pyramids built between 2613 and 2589 BC.

The first Dahshur pyramid was constructed during the reign of King Sneferu, and then Sneferu commissioned the second Dahshur pyramid, the Red Pyramid, which is 104 meters in height and has an inclination of 43 degrees. This pyramid is also called the "Red Pyramid" as red limestone was employed in building it, and is believed to be the tomb of King Sneferu. There are also several royal tombs of royal princesses which have been found in Dahshur, and are laden with luxurious jewelry and precious stones. There are also several smaller pyramids of princesses to the south of Dahshur. Close to the pyramids of Dahshur are several big tombs of Middle and ancient Kingdoms of Egypt officials.

We will have a one-of-a-kind experience that transports us to a period of glory and invention at Dahshur, one of Egypt's most picturesque and genuine archeological sites, surrounded by golden beaches and clean air.
