Fayoum from Hurghada

Egypt is famous for its splendid oases. Three oases are separated to the west, surrounding a lake that borders the Nile Valley, while four oases form a circular ring that is traversed by a route that connects Cairo and Luxor. These oases have, since time immemorial, borne witness to a rich history. Enjoy a trip to one of them- Fayoum.

In the Fayoum Governorate, there are two forms of tourism: ecotourism and historical monuments. Among the most popular tourist destinations are Wadi Lake and Lake Qarun, which draw visitors who love the water and fishing. Historical monuments from several ancient civilizations, including Pharaonic structures, are abundant across the governorate. Islamic monuments and Roman monuments

If you're looking for a new place to spend a quiet and enjoyable vacation away from your daily life and its concerns, and you want to clear your mind and occupy yourself with various activities, summer and winter, then Fayoum's tourist villages will be your destination for a truly unique experience!

The best day tour to Fayoum from Hurghada

You will be transferred from Hurghada to Fayoum, where the company will arrange everything you need. Upon your arrival, we will start with Wadi Al-Hitan. Wadi El Hitan Protected Area in Fayoum Governorate is an oasis of natural treasures within the governorate. The reserve contains complete whale skeletons dating back over 40 million years, telling the world what nature was like before history. Archaeological missions in the area periodically reveal new discoveries of diverse fossils, and UNESCO has declared it a World Natural Heritage Site.

Beautiful vistas may be seen at the Wadi El Hitan Protected Area. You'll think you're in a place that's not like any other until you get there. You'll find yourself surrounded by evidence of another world, 40 million years old. The reserve boasts rocks carved with unimaginable precision, and a museum filled with fossils that tell you what long years can do to places and living creatures.

We will then transfer to Wadi El Rayan. Wadi El Rayan Waterfalls are one of the public areas in Wadi El Rayan Nature Reserve in Fayoum Governorate. There are no other waterfalls like this in Egypt. They are natural waterfalls, not artificial, as the agricultural drainage that exceeded the needs of some Fayoum centers was released into the Wadi El Rayan depression in the seventies. The area of Wadi El Rayan Falls can be regarded as one of the most prominent tourist and aesthetic sites with its geological monuments, representative of different eras, along with waters, sounding harmonious.

Finally, before departing, you'll be able to enjoy your meal in Tunis Village. Tunis Village is distinguished, unlike any other village, by its pottery and ceramics industry. Its residents learned the craft at the Swiss potter Eveline Boret School. The first generation graduated from the school and each opened their own workshop. The second generation followed, until the village became an art gallery for pottery and ceramics workshops that stretch from the beginning of the village to its end.

You will be transferred to Hurghada via the airport.
