Day2- Cairo Day Tour to Sakkara and Dahshur Pyramids

Enjoy our Cairo Day Tour to Sakkara and Dahshur Pyramids, one of our top Cairo Tours, and embark on the most exciting experience of your life. The largest and most well-known Step Pyramid of the Pharaoh Djoser is at Saqqara Necropolis, which is where your expert Egyptologist guide will meet you and take you there in a luxurious private car. It towers over the necropolis and can be seen from all directions. Around 2650 BC, the renowned architect of Imhotep's ancient dynasty built the pyramid. Legend has it that he was the one who came up with the idea of raising the classical Egyptian tomb from its original rectangular mastaba shape. In reality, he gave the order to stack one mastaba on top of another.

Continue on with your Egypt Tours to another nearby necropolis called Dahshur, where more pyramids proudly remain to remind us that ancient Egyptian history was filled with great Kings and Rulers. Its area is 1.5 km³, and it situated 26 km south of Cairo on the west bank of the Nile. On the rocky plateau of Dahshur, pyramids dating to the 4th, 12th, and 13th dynasties were discovered. The Red Pyramid of King Seneferu and the Bent Pyramid are better maintained than other pyramids in the region. During your Cairo Day Tours, lunch will be served in a neighbourhood restaurant before you are driven back to your hotel.

Day3- old cairo tour

To begin your daily Cairo day tours, our tour guide will meet you at your hotel in Cairo or Giza in the morning. Start your Coptic and Islamic Cairo Tour with going inside the Saladin Citadel and the Mohamed Ali Alabaster Mosque, which served as the capital of Egypt for many years.

Around 1176 A.D., Salah Al-Din, a well-known Muslim leader, constructed the Citadel of Saladin. Given that the design was inspired by Istanbul's renowned Blue Mosque of Sultan Ahmed, it serves as a representation of Ottoman architecture in Cairo. You will be taken to another historic location in the area to see the mosque of Ibn Tulun, the oldest still-standing mosque in Africa, the Mamluk mosque and Madrasas of Sultan Hassan, and the Islamic complex dubbed by historians the pyramid of Islamic architecture in Cairo.

Large mosque and madrasa known as the Sultan Hassan Mosque-Madrasa were built in Cairo's Old City during the Mamluk Islamic era of Egypt. The mosque's astounding size and cutting-edge architectural characteristics were acclaimed as astonishing when it was first constructed. Al-Maqrizi wrote that the mosque was home to various "wonders of construction" and that an-Nasir Hasan, a sultan with a brief and unremarkable history, had ordered its construction.

During Egypt's Mamluk Islamic era, a sizable mosque and madrasa known as the Sultan Hassan Mosque-Madrasa were constructed in the Old City of Cairo. The mosque was unique when it was first built because of its enormous size and cutting-edge architectural features. Al-Maqrizi asserted that the unimpressive and transitory sultan an-Nasir Hasan had given the mosque his approval and that it included several "wonders of architecture."

The majority of the 250 mummies discovered belonged to a rich class that had resided in Bahariya Oasis during the Greco-Roman era.

Black Desert, which is the following stop and is located after the Bahariya Oasis, is a bit to the north of White Desert. The thin covering of black powder that covers this desert's rocks, mountains, and desert gave it its name. You're going to have lunch while you're here.

After that, we'll return you to your hotel so you may spend the night there.
